VIRGINIA RACE FEATURE OF DAY

Gamcock, With Evans Up, Winner in Chevy Chase Steeplechase.

BRILLIANT SCENE ON TRACK

All Four Riders From Old Dominion—Results of Other Races.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29.—The fifth renewal of the Chevy Chase steeplechase, the feature at Benning today, resulted in one of the most brilliant cross-country contests ever seen. The Washington Jockey Club departed from the usual custom this year by making the race open to the hunt clubs of Virginia, as well as to the local club, of which the race was named. The wisdom of this move was easily apparent by the class of horses the event called out. While there were only four starters, they were so far superior to any horses that have in the past carried the Washington Jockey Club flag that the race was a triumph for the crowd to its feet in a riot of applause. For the last mile the two horses had fought out the issue, and the victory was not assured until the finish line was passed.

Virginia Race.
Gamcock, who last spring was a stout contender with Good and Plenty for the Virginia memorial steeplechase at Belmont Park, when he fell at the last fence, was a lukewarm favorite at 7 to 5, with Red, White and Blue heavily backed at 11 to 5. Oleroso had plenty of support at 3 to 1, while Dunsverick was the only other starter, with the outsider at 5 to 2. Evans, the Warrenton, Va., amateur, was on Gamcock; Dion Kerr rode Dunsverick; Courtland Smith rode his own horse, Oleroso, and Fred Okie was on Red, White and Blue.

It was in Virginia race as all the hunt clubs in Virginia while each of the riders hailed from the Old Dominion. Gamcock was the leader practically throughout the race. He fenced badly for the first mile, but, losing a jaw at the first jump, but invariably making it up on the flat before the next obstacle was reached.

For the last mile it was a grueling contest between Gamcock and Dunsverick, the head and neck of the latter running around the head of the former, taking the liverpool as one horse. The pace was terrific in the run across the main track to the last two fences. It was possibly Dunsverick's unfamiliarity with this race, the fact that he had never before fenced in the last fence, but one he blundered and lost several lengths. He gained rapidly in the run to the last jump but pecked slightly here, also losing more ground, but came fast on the flat and forced Mr. Evans to a stiff drive to win by half a length.

Other Races.
Ben Hodder and D'Arkle carried the bulk of the money in the opening race, with Right and True a strong third choice. Al Powell was much the best in the second race, and he ran a brilliant race, though justified the short price of 11 to 20 laid against him. Johnston, well backed at a long price, was second. The Sterling always had the foot of T. S. Martin, the favorite for the third race, but he was being bundled along at the end. Sterling is the first horse wintered at New York to win at the meeting. Cannon Ball kept up the good work for the favorite players by winning the fifth without an effort.

French Expert May Meet Hoppe; Sutton Comes Home for Big Match

Followers of Billiards Much Interested in the Coming Contest—Sutton Thinks He Will Beat the Boy Champion.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Followers of billiards may see another match for the 38.1 ball game championship of the world, in which Louis Cure, of Paris, who is now in this city, may play "Willie" Hoppe, the present champion. Cure, after seeing Hoppe defeat George Slosson for the title on Tuesday night, decided that it would not be poor policy to meet the "boy wonder," and he is seriously considering the advisability of issuing a challenge. The only obstacle that stood in the way of Cure's making an international challenge is whether he can stay in this country long enough to practice for such a contest. He has on a contest in Paris, and he may decide that he cannot remain here long enough to practice for such a contest. Cure played two games with Maurice Daily yesterday at 18.2 ball game at Daly's Academy. In the afternoon he defeated Daily by a score of 399 to 271, and in the evening he won by 400 to 109, with an average of 26.10-15. George B. Sutton, the billiard player, who has made Paris his home for the last four years, was among the passengers on the White Star steamship Teutonic, which docked last night about 10 o'clock. Sutton came over to take part in the billiard tournament at Madison Square Garden next month at 18.2, in which he will meet Hoppe, among others. He was most interested in the French courts prohibiting betting in connection with billiards, and he is expected to remain in this country indefinitely.

Sutton will make his headquarters at No. 20 West Eighth-street while in New York. He says that owing to an adverse decision by the French courts prohibiting betting in connection with billiards, he is expected to remain in this country indefinitely.

NELSON TO MEET TERRY IN SOUTH

Arrangements Now Being Made For Ten-Round Bout in New Orleans.

NEIL TO FIGHT ABE ATTELL

Great Schedule For Fight in Los Angeles Next Month.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 29.—Local sports men have been arranged for a ten-round contest to take place the last week of May between Nelson and Terry McGovern. There is an amphitheatre, with a seating capacity of 8,000. After looking over the grounds, Billy Nelson, Nelson's manager, consented to sign the articles of agreement. Nelson will return from Los Angeles the day after his contest with Herrera if the match is made. Nelson and Nelson will leave here for Los Angeles Thursday.

Three Great Contests.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Frankie Neil, the hard-hitting little California fighter, who killed Harry Terry about a month ago in a bout, has been matched to fight Abe Attell at Los Angeles for the featherweight championship.

The battle will take place during Fiesta week, in May, and the weight has been set at 125 pounds. Both men will start training at once.

This match makes the third that has been arranged by Manager McCarthy for this week, and the tournament promises to eclipse anything ever held in the country.

Britt and Kid Hermann will meet in the first battle. Neil and Attell are the second pair, while Battling Nelson and Aurelia Herrera will furnish the final bout.

Carsey Beats Logan.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 29.—Philadelphia, now takes rank with San Francisco and Los Angeles as a boxing center being one of the few cities where twenty-round bouts may be seen. After a postponement of the new Tuxedo Athletic Club, at North Eastington, was finally opened last evening with a twenty-round bout between Carsey, of Chicago, and Logan, of Philadelphia, which was a star feature.

The threatening talk of some of the Delaware county officials kept the attendance of spectators down, but there was no interference with the show, which passed off smoothly. A special train carried the spectators to the club-house, which has been fitted up very comfortably for the purposes for which it was built.

Carsey proved much more aggressive than Logan, and easily had the better of the contest, although Logan, who was a member of the Delaware county officials kept the attendance of spectators down, but there was no interference with the show, which passed off smoothly.
